At Democratic headquarters the announcement was made that there had been an increase in registration in New York, Kings, Queens, and Richmond counties, which should give no less than 90,000 majority. probability of Colorado, Illinois and Jowa.

The Mail and Express says:

The Republicans expect to carry 268 electoral votes and concede 164 to the Democrats. This is on the basis of putting the six votes of West Virginia in the doubtful column, also the three of Deleware, and giving Weaver Nevada's three votes. This gives Harrison 104 plurality in the electoral college, and granting him West Virginia, he would have a majority of 110 over all. Republicans cannot, in view of this, figure out defeat for Harrison under any combination, almost. Giving Cleveland all States which it is believed he will carry, together with New York, Indiana and Connecticut, and he will still be short of the necessary number to elect. Harrison might lose Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Missourt, and yet win. He might lose Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming, and win.

Hon. J. J. Clarkson tonight said that ll doubts of Harrison's election were one. East week he classed New York, connecticut, Indiana, Nevada, West Connecticut, Indiana, Nevada, West Virginia and Delaware as doubtful, but today he took Indiana and Connecticut out of thedoubtful column, which gives Harrison 232 electoral votes and elects him without New York.

BUFFALO (N.Y.,) Nov. 7.—Lieut. Gov. Sheehan, when asked tonight what he thought of the situation at the closing hour, replied: "We will carry New York State; of that I have not the slightest doubt."

Democrat arrested tomorrow bailed out at once.

The Democratic managers have issued orders to Democratic boards of inspectors, supervisors and other election officers to insist upon the Democratic interpretation of the law. The appointment of deputy sheriffs is looked upon as evidence that the Democrats intend to have a semblance of law to support their position. Many clashes intend to have a semblance of law to support their position. Many clashes seem probable, especially in districts in the lower part of the city, where many complaints of illegal registration have been made, and there have been many arrests. United States officers have been instrumental in taking up these cases, and there is where the trouble is liable to occur. liable to occur.

CHICAGO. Nov. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The close of the campaign finds both political parties confident in the Northwest. Republicans laugh at these pretensions, and the State Committee appears to be quite confi-

KANSAS BADLY MIXED.

Republicans Claim Everything but the Fusionists Show Strength.

TOPEKA (KAN.,) Nov. 7.— By the Associated Press. The situation in Kan-sas, as far as it has gone, has undergone a change since Saturday night. It changed slightly more in favor of the fusionists today, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifth District withdrawing in favor of the Populist candidate. Fusion is now accomplished candidate. Pasion is now accompassed in all districts excepting the Sixth. The Chairman of the Republican State Committee claims everything. He says his party will without doubt have a majority of from 10,000 to 20,000 on the State and national tickets and will elect every congressional candidate.

The People's party men and fusionists are even more confident than the Republicans. The chairman of the Populist State Central Committee claims the election of Llewellyng, the candidate for Governor. by a majority of at least for Governor.

The church party has hitherto been for the People's party. This year it split, and numbers call themselves Democrats or Republicans, as the case may be. Both pledge Statehood for Utah. The Liberals oppose Statehood and have made their canvass to that opposition. They expect to poll about 00 votes and on that vote to say that, Tool votes and on that vote to say that, Utah is not yet properly prepared to enter the Union. publicanism in their life time publicanism in their life time.

The past few days of this campaign has been embittered by personalities, the result of all being to cement the claim of the church Republicans that they will elect their candidate, who is a son of George Q. Cannon. The Liberals claim the situation to be an indication of the contention that the church rules absolutely in Utah and therefore it is not a benefit to be a State. The it is not a benefit to be a State. The campaign closed here tonight with a joint debate between Cannon and Raw lins, and by a grand rally by the Liberals.

IN THE NUTMED STATE. Very Positive Claims Made by the Leaders of Both Parties New Haven (Ct.,) Nov. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The chairmen of both State committees were interviewed tonight. Chairman Benton, of the Republican Committee, said that he expected his party would secure a safe plurality for both the electoral and State tickets. He looked for the election of a Legislature Republican in both branches. Three out of four Republican candidates for Congress will be elected, and he would not be at all sur-prised if the party made a clean sweep, insuaing a full Kepublican representa-tion in both houses at Washington. Chairman Davis, of the Democratic Committee, said he was absolutely cercommittee, said he was absolutely cer-tain that the Democratic electoral ticket in the State would have a plu-rality of not less than 2000. He said the election of Governor would be thrown into the Legislature, which is in doubt as to its political complexion on joint ballot, and no one could fore tell the result. The Democrats are sure of hree Congressmen out of four.

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.), Nov. 7.— Hon. Whitelaw Reid closed the campaign here tonight with an address before a large crowd at Bunnell Theater.

The People's party chairman places the Populist vote in the State at 49,500. The Populists claim fifteen members of the Legislaturs; that they will hold the balance of power in that body and dic-tate the election of the successor to Sonator Turnia. The Probliticinists Senator Turpie. The Prohibitionists claim a vote of 18,000 in the State, in the State, and to overcome the plu-rality of two years ago the Republicans will have to gain an average of nearly 7 votes to a precinct.

California's Probable Vote-More Fusion in Oregon-Nevada for Weaver. San Francisco, Nov. 7.—[By the As-ociated Press.] The campaign in California closes with the three principal State committees claiming the victory omorrow, though Democratic claims are made with certain qualifications. Max Popper, chairman of the Demo-cratic committee, says that if 20,000 votes are polled for Weaver the State ill go for Cleveland, and from information in his possession, he is inclined to the belief that the Populist vote will be large enough to secure a Democratic victory.

The Populists' committee claim that Weaver will poll over 50,000 votes and carry the State by a small plurality. The Weather Bureau predicts fair weather throughout California tomorrow.

In the United States District Cour vesterday Judge Ross denied the mogers who arrived today from Mexico were delayed twelve hours by the wreck of a north-bound passenger train on the Mexican National Railway on Friday. On Thursday night a large rock from an overanging cliff near Rinconada, Mexico, fell upon the track. The passenger train crashed into the obstruction tion for a new trial in the case of Mrs Mollie Lafferty, administratrix, etc. vs. the Southern Pacific Company, in cordance with the following opinion rendered therein:

The ground for the motion for a new trial is that the Court ought to have held as a matter of law that there was no negligence shown on the part of the defendant comcomision between the train on which he was a brakeman and two engines of the defend-ant, which, in some way not shown, left the yard of the railroad company at Fresn and got upon the main track, thus causing the collision.

The evidence showed that those engines were taken into the yard in the evening by their respective engineers, upon the conclusion of their day's run, and left standing of the tracks in the yard, with clusion of their day's run, and left standing upon one of the tracks in the yard, with water in them and fires burning. It was not claimed in the case that either of the tracks or switches of the railroad itself, nor that either of the engines that caused the accident were in any respect defective. There was no evidence tending to show in what way the engines were made to move from where they were left standing in the yard. The night was foggy and dark, and the theory of counsel was that they must have been put in motion by some thoughtless or evil-disposed person.

As the engines were left with steam up, in accordance with the custom prevailing in the yard at Fresno, the law. I think, devolved upon the company the duty of taking reasonable precautions to see that they were not tampered with or moved. And that the company recognized its duty in that regard is shown by the fact that it employed a man to watch the engines during the night. But the evidence showed that the duty of wiping the engines and putting them in order for service the next morning was also imposed upon the watchman. Whether or not the precaution thus taken by the defendant was a reasonable precau-Whether or not the precaution thus taken by the defendant was a reasonable precaution was, I think, properly left to the jury to decide, under appropriate instructions, in view of all the facts and circumstances of the case. The Court told the jury that, in determining that question, they were to remember that the company was not an insurer of the lives or limbs of its employés, but was bound to exercise ordinary care and to do what was reasonable to protect them; that Lafferty, when he accepted the employment of the railroad company, undertook all of the risks that necessarily and naturally appertain to the business, and that for negligence of his fellow-servants the company tain to the business, and that for negligence of his fellow-servants the company was not liable. It was not alleged or claimed that the watchman was incompetent or in any way negligent, but it was claimed on the part of the plaintiff that one watchman who had placed upon him the additional duty of wiping three engines was not enough. The case showed that three engines were usually kept in the yard at night, with water and fires burning, and that on the night in question there where there to be wiped and watched by the watchman. The evidence was that the engineers had instructions to group the engines together so that they could be more the engineers had instructions to group the engines together so that they could be more effectually watched; but that they failed to do so on the night of the accident. For this negligence in that regard the Court in-structed the jury that the defendant com-pany was not responsible, and the case was therefore to be considered by the jury as if therefore to be considered by the Jary as it the engines were grouped together; but, whether one man could wipe the engines and at the same time exercise reasonable watchfulness and care of three, each one of which was susceptible of being instantly moved, was, I think, properly left to the de-termination of the jury in view of all the tacts and circumstances of the case.

sample of the progress of this branch of manufacture among us. Nothing is wanted, it appears from the multiplication and success of the woolen factories, but a sufficiency of the material, which a very short time will furnish, and a protection against temporary dangers, which I hope will not be with-STAND by the cause of good government, high license and regulation of the liquor traffic throughout the county by voting for the Republican candidates for Supervisors. This is and out to be a high-license county.

Vote today for the party of progress from any cause, the ground which has been happily gained for useful manu-factures should be lost, and the country thrown back to its former dependence on foreign supplies. It has been long-ago discovered that the introduction of of patriotism, of high ideals, of great men, of great deeds; a party with a past that is as bright as the constellation in the dome of blue and a future ago discovered that the introduction of manufactures into a country is attended with so many difficulties that it does not take place without the aid of critical circumstances; and a failure of the existing experiment, advanced as it now is, would be the greatest of all discouragements. It is well-known that Great Britian—herself the greatest woolen manufacturer in the world—owes her that secures all good things for America and Americans.

We believe that Republicans all over the country go into today's battle at the polls with a consciousness of right on their side and a confidence in success man ufacturer in the world—owes her success to the persecutions which drove the artists from their own country to that asylum. The establishment of other branches of her manufactures had its source in the persecuting edicts of France. The state of the world at present holds out similar advantages, of which the United States and the avail themselves. Accept six which presages victory. We believe that the Republican ticket will hold its own in good shape.

FALL in for the final round-up. Pull ourselves together and put the everlasting kibosh on the Stuffed Prophet, the insufferable Copperhead Adlai Stev enson, the free-trade theorists, the wildcat money cranks, and the calamity howlers headed by Jim Weaver. Hit Heaven smiled upon and gave us liberty and independence. That same Providence has blessed us with the means of national independence and national defense. If we omit or refuse to use the gifts which He has extended 'em!

Tuis is the roorback manufacturer' last day, and it is going to be one in which he will be overworked. Look to use the gifts which He has extended to us, we deserve not the continuation of His blessings. These being the grand materials of our national defense, they ought to have extended to them adequate the have extended to them adequate the state of the state out for lying circulars. THE young man who casts his maiden vote today has it in his hands to make the right kind of a start. If he has read his country's history with intelligence, he cannot make the mistake of voting with the party of secession, of nullification, of slavery, of rebellion, of wildcat money, of free trade and of English supremacy in American commerce. Young man, vote the Republican ticket if you wish to start right.

Now is the time for every Republican o stand by and exemplify the faith that is in him. It devolves upon the Républican party to save the Nation from the misfortune and humiliation of free trade and wildcat money; to vindicate the right of a free ballot and a fair count; to say that the United States shall keep right along in the march of progress. Every individual must do his part, or the grand result cannot be achieved.

Minister to Central America.

There is not a colored man in the State of Ohio who would go to the polls next November and cast a vote had the Democratic party controlled the legis-lation of this State when it was pro-posed to strike the word white from the Constitution. It was the Repub-lican party that made colored men-voters. It was the Republican party that made free the colored voters. It was the Reparty that made free the people who were slaves. Is there a colored man so great a traitor to his race as to vote to put in power the pol-ticians who opposed emancipation, who opposed the enfranchising black men equally with white men?

California knows where her true in terests lie. It is vitally necessary that the leading industries of this State should be protected. We need protection on barley, wool, wines, oranges dried fruits, raisins, sugar and a whole line of products. These industries are now in a flourishing condition, and they furnish a substantial basis for Califor nia prosperity. Cut off our Eastern markets and these industries must languish. There will be an end of good times in California. It seems strange that any resident of this State could be so fatuous as not to see this. But a good many of them are. Democrats and Populists will vote to bring about just this state of affairs. They will vote against their own best interests.

Yesterday was a busy day at the headquarters of the Republican County Central Committee. All of the final details of the campaign were gone over and arrangements for polling the full vote of the party were completed. Each of the forty-five precincts in the city will be under the personal supervision of a manager, who will keep close watch on every move made the Democratic workers, and at the first indication of a disposition to resort to illegal voting the United States marshals will be called

A POINT SETTLED.

If Your Name is Not on the Great Regis-ter You Cannot Vote.

A legal opinion has been procured by the Republican and Democratic con mittees, in which they advise concurrence:

To Charles Silent, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, and C. F. A. Last, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: At the request of your respective committees, we have examined the provisions of the Australian Ballot Law as enacted by the last Legislature to determine the right of an elector whose name does not appear on the printed copies of the Great Register to vote at the coming election. We have been unable to find any provision authorizing the use of certificates of the County Clerk to show that the voter whose name does not so appear on the printed copies has been registered on the Great Register their bailots without delay. There is no neces-sity for a lead pencil, as a rubber stamp has the office of the County Clerk. contrary, in our opinion, the statute in several provisions requires that the name of every votor entitled to vote shall appear of the printed copies of the Great Register in use at the polls. (See sections 1083, 1117 1204, 1205 and 1225 to 1228 inclusive.) This we believe to be the piain requirement of the statute, but as to its constitutionality we have not thought it to be our province to express any opinion, and there iore refrain from doing so. Respectfully BRADNER W. LEE.

Dillon's Charges
Los Angeles (Cal.,) November 7, 1892.—
To the Editor of THE TIMES.] When the Los Angeles (Cal.,) November 7, 1892.—
[To the Editor of The Times.] When the People's party fad came into existence I, as a sorehead over the defeat of Blaine at Chicago, found its ranks a solace to my aching cranium. There suddenly came over me a spirit of political benevolence, whereby I was to become a party to the unshackling of the politically downtrodden and a fellow-booster of honest poverty into the ease of public office. In short, I was an ardent People's party man. My object now was to seek enlightenment upon its principles. I went one night over to the East Side, where People's party orators were to hold forth. The only speaker I heard that night was a gentieman whom I. will. name later. He opened fire with his oratorical battery upon the breastworks of Republican injustivy. When I first heard him a feeling of sweet revenge came over me. I had a personal grievance against the Republican party for that piece of mysterious jugglery, whereby Mr. Blaine was permitted to speind his old age unhampered by the cares of office.

Hot volleys of alleged thought continued to pour from this Populite vocal battery into the ranks of Republicanism; my sentiment became less and less in accord with his own, however, when it began to dawn upon me 'that the whole trend of his discourse was one of vindictive arraignment of the whole Republican party, from President down to the county constabulary; but, hold; he made one exception, and it is a curious thing to note in the light of subsequent occurrences; he said that the only county office with which he found no fault

I became interested. I had always known of that incumbent, Mr. McLachhan, as a gentleman of ability and outspoken honesty, and was anxious to know wherein lay his crime, thus long hidden from the public knowledge, but which this keenvisioned Populite was now to open before the public gaze. The speaker's arraignment ran thus: Mr. McLachlan had sald upon the stump that he had never put the county to the expense of hiring lawyers to help him in important cases against the county. The speaker announced that he would then and there impeach Mr. McLachlan's veractiv before the bar of public opinion. He would read from the records of the county, and give page, date and amount of bills that the county had paid to lawyers who had helped Mr. McLachlan He read, I believe, eight items. I took them down. This was, in my opinion, a serious charge, and I was going to look up the records to satisfy myseif. Next day I went to the office of the County Clefk, and obtained leave to examine the original bills putlin by those lawyers who, according to the speaker of the previous evening, had assisted Mr. McLachlan. The first bill was for services rendered in 1890. Mr. Kelly was for services rendered before Mr. McLachlan's time, except a bill of R. B. Carpenter for. I think, $250. Now, if I could find out these things by a outside lawyer.

Now, if I could find out these things by a glance at the tace of the bills, why could not the gentlman who made the speech, who is a lawyer, and whose name is H. C. Dillon? Well, on further inquiry I found that Mr. Dillon did not look up the records; that Mr. Edgar Moore, the expert accountant, had examined them for him. Mr. Moore, as a man well used to looking up accounts, had discovered what I had subsequently found out, that the bills spoken of were tor sevices rendered or contracted for during Mr. Kelly's time, with. I suppose, the exception of the bill above noted. When Mr. Moore handed the result of his work to Mr. Dillon, he told Mr. Dillon that the items which he handed to him were correct, but that they were for services rendered before Mr. HcLachlan's time. Mr. Dillon do? He publishes all of these charges against the county. What does Mr. Dillon do? He publishes all of these items in the Herald, and states therein that they are copies of bills presented to and paid by the county for lawyer's fees for helping Mr. McLachlan in the discharge of duties which the county paid him to perform.

Now comes the laughable part of the duties which the county paid him to perform.

Now comes the laughable part of the whole affair. Mr. McLachlan repudiates the charge of Mr. Dillon, and tells Mr. Dillon that he (Dillon) had information from Mr. Moore that these bills were for help rendered Mr. Kelly.

Mr. Dillon answers Mr. McLachlan by printing an affidavit from Mr. Moore, in which Mr. Moore says that when he handed the items to Mr. Dillon he did state that they were correct, and in the same affidavit he wishes it understood that he reiter a that they are correct.

Mr. Dillon had said publicly that the legal expenses of the colony had hitherto been nothing, but when the colony was struggling to readjust itself by disposing of some of its extra personal property, trying to repay members for their losses in cash, Mr. Dillon seizes everything, even to the colony library, a few old books that had been donated to the colony. After a two weeks' suit the case was decided in his favor; a fee of $7500 was allowed; he paid his attorney, Mr. Bradley of Visalia, $50 a day, and swore that he made a bargain with Mr. Purdy to fill the office of keeper for $1 a

FRAUDULENT KAWEAH AGAIN.

A Sufferer's Description of the Connection of H. C. Dillon.

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—ITo the Editor of THE TIMES.] The time now is short for the voter to decide as between who be shall vote for—James McLachlan for District Attorney, with a clean record, or H C. Dillon, amirched with Kaweah Colony frauds and a local prevaricator of campaignets utterances.

emirched with Kaweah Colony frauds and a local prevaricator of campaignutterances. Only a few days ago the shamelessness of Dillon was exposed in Visalia. The proof is in the Sheriff's office at Visalia, and cannot be denied. Every mechanic, laborer and owner of small acreage in Los Angeles county should rebuke Dillon, and vote for a man who is above reproach.

In the first place, it is known that Dillon's name appeared at the head of the Kaweah Colony Company's newspaper as attorney. If he does not remember it, then the poor, unfortunate settler, lured from a far-off home, does remember it.

The poor settler paid his money into the coffers of the trustees—the latter under false pretenses collecting it.

A small part of the money, which was raised by assessing the settler, went toward purchasing harrows, plows, and other farming utensils which, under the colony regulation, were to be used by the colonists. Some of the money also went into the colony mewspaper, which printed H. C. Dillon's name, among others, as attorneys for the colony. The colony trustees had to have a safe and office furniture, a printing press to print their paper on, and type, etc., and the settlers, of course, advanced the money through the regular channel to pay for all these things.

Those on the inside of the colony 'workings' must have known that the ecolony was a fraud top and bottom. Is it possible that Dillon, a reputed bright lawyer, did not know that the whole thing was a fraud at the time his name was appearing at the head of the colony newspaper as one of its attorneys?

When the glaring inducements were being heralded abroad, and at the time attorneys?

When the glaring inducements were being heraided abroad, and at the time when an unfortunate settler, his family, and his all in his pocket, arrived at the colony, did Dillon not know that that poor settler was being deceived? If he says "No," then he is not intelligent enough to fill the position of District Attorney of Los Angeles county.

county.

After the United States Government took a hand in the Kaweah Colony scheme by bringing suit against the colony for trespassing on Government timber land (the colony projectors having fraudulently circled some of the latter land inside of its boundaries.) Dillon appeared as attorney for the colony. The Government won, and the colony struck a rock on which it was wrecked. The most bare-faced scheme to rob poor people was exposed.

wrecked. The most bare-raced scheme to rob poor people was exposed.

The Visalia Delta exposed the Kaweah Colony frauds in several lengthy articles running through many issues of that paper a few months ago, and I refer you to Mr. Stewart, its editor.

scheme was one of the greatest

Stewart, its editor.

The colony scheme was one of the greatest frauds that was ever gotten up in the United States. Emigrants from far-off places were lored to the Tulare gravel pits by the colored literature sent out by the colony company, and through inducements of lying agents. So great was the fraud perpetrated on these poor people that they appealed to the last Congress for relief.

While on the witness stand in Judge Ross's court in this city (in a suit brought against the colony) one of the colony trustees stated that the colony had 1000 acres planted in grain. In his answer in the timber-cutting case the same member of the board of trustees said the colony had 10,000 fruit trees and 3000 forest trees set out, and 5000 orange trees to be transplanted. He also stated that the colony had thirty inhabited log houses. The same person had letter-heads printed on which Eaweah Colony was described as consisting of four settlements—Advance, Arcady, East Branch and the Road Camp. Secretary Martin also stated before the Los Angeles group about April, 1890, that the colony had in about 300 acres of hay that year. At the same time the capacity of the colony sawmill was stated as being 10,000 feet per day. In a "call for funds" the capacity of the shingle mill was given as "40,000 per day."

When the light of truth is turned upon these statements that sinverse and the results of the colony had the prints of the colony had in a particular that the capacity of the colony sawmill was stated as being 10,000 feet per day. In a "call for funds" the capacity of the shingle mill was given as "40,000 per day."

day. In a "call for funds" the capacity of the shingle mill was given as "40,000 per day."

When the light of truth is turned upon these statements they simmer down to the following: The 240-acre townsite, controlled by the colony, is rocky, and less than half can be cultivated by the ordinary means. About forty acres, only, are cultivated by the colony, to which may be added seventeen acres rented from Samuel Hilstead, a neighbor. There are about one hundred fruit trees, only, at the colony, and at one time there were a number of seedlings bedded in a nursery. At East Branch, which is not controlled by the colony, eighty acres are cultivated, about five acres being in trees and vines. The "thirty inhabited log cabins." like the "femple and theater" in Marble Cañon, are of the future. The four settlements of Kawac were as follows: Advance, the chief city, consisted at that time of a few tents, the most substantial structure being an open stable of round poles, supporting a roof consisting of shakes and canvas. East Branch had a barn somewhat similar and a few tents. The road camp comprised a half-dozen 8x10 or 8x12 tents and a "restaurant," made by stretching some canvas over poles, the whole being shifted from time to time as necessity required. Arcady was n small, and untenanted log canvas over poles, the whole being shitted from time to time as necessity required. Arcady was n small, and untenanted log cabin. The sawmill mentioned cut, in-stead of 10,000 feet of lumber per day, only 197 feet, as testified to by Mr. Bar-nard, the owner, at the trial in Los Angeles nard, the owner, at the trial in Los Angeles aiready spoken of. The best the mill could do was to cut 1000 feet per day; and the shingle mill was pronounced by Mr. Peterton as practically worthless. Such is the composite picture presented by the 1000 cultivated acres, the 300 acres of hay, the 10,000 fruit trees, 3000 forest trees, 5000 orange trees, the four settlements, the thirty log cabins and the shingle and saw mills, when penciled in the hues of plain facts.

mills, when penciled in the hues of plain facts.

After the Government suit had been won it was hoped that some steps would be taken to arrange matters so as to allow the settlers to save something, but Dillon commenced an action against the colony. He came very near taking a default judgment, but two of the trustees answering the summons, a trial ensued. Dillon won. With an execution he accompanied the Visalia Sheriff and pointed out for attachment the harrows, plows, farming utensils and other things that any poor farmer can ill afford to dispense with. The safe in the colony's office and the printing press and type, and everything which the poor settler had contributed his might toward buying was attached.

A man named Purdy was placed in charge.

everything which the poor settler had contributed his might toward buying was attached.

A man named Purdy was placed in charge of the chattels attached by the Sheriff under Dillon's instructions. Purdy was a friend of Dillon's. The Sheriff, in making up his cost bill, some days after the levy had been made, figured in the keeper's fees at the legal and customary rate of $3 per day. Although given the keeper's sposition under Dillon's instructions, Purdy insisted on his legal rights and demanded $3 per day. Dillon rather dumbfounded the Sheriff and keeper by stating that he had previously agreed to pay the keeper $1 per day. Durdy stoutly denied that any such arrangement had been made, and sought the services of Judge Adams of Visalia. The keeper was a poor man, with no money to fight Dillon in the courts. He gave in and accepted the $1 per day, but not until he had forced Dillon to swear to the alleged bargain before a competent official. No wonder Dillon is rich, and the poor kept down. If he will force one man to accept $1 per day, what will he do with another? Then again, he has not seized what, the 'scheming organizers have put into the colony. It is the hard earnings of a lifetime of many, and the price of a home or a farm back East. They paid for the sawmill, the plow, the harrow, the printing-office, etc., that Dillon now holds under execution.

Now much more magnanimous Dillon uld have been to have divided what few aps" there were among the guiled col-; sufferers?

MR. CLINE'S CARD. He Defends His Name and the Size

He Defends His Name and the Size of His Fees.

Los Angeles, Nov. 7, 1892.—[To the Editor of The Times.] In answer to the Herald's charges of yesterday, I have this to say: It is not my intention, directly or indirectly, to cause one harsh word to be said against my opponent. Mr. Marsh, in the race for the office of Sheriff. While it is true that I would like to be elected, I have no desire to succeed at the cost of any is true that I would like to be elected, I have no desire to succeed at the cost of any man's fair name or reputation.

I was cradled in your midst; from childhood I have grown to manhood here, and naught, so far as I personally know, can be said against my reputation for integrity and honesty.

My aged parents have lived among you for over a quarter of a century, and I know of no stain on their character to be handed down to their children; and I know of no stain on the character of their children to be cast up to them.

While Constable of Los Angeles township, I endeavored to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and honestly. It is true that the office was dependent on fees, no salary being at that time attached to it. For years previous to my election as Constable it was a fee office, and it so remained until two years after I went out of office.

Almost at every session of a grand juryfor years before I went into office, and while I was inforfice, and after I served my term as Constable—each grand jury sought to devise some remedy for the outlay for fees.

While I was a serving as a Republican constable my bills were always examined by Thomas E. Rowan, the Democratic chairman of the Board of Supervisors. All who know him must admit that Mr. Rowan was a conscientious supervisor, and that to attempt to run the gauntlet with anything but an honest bill, with him as chief who know him must admit that Mr. Rowan was a conscientious supervisor, and that to attempt to run the gauntiet with anything but an honest bill, with him as chief scrutinizer, would have been a dangerous experiment.

The claim that during the two years I was in the Constable's office I drew over $7000 is true; but out of this amount my deputies and office rent were paid, and for the entire two years I did not net over $150 per month.

My successor in office, a Democrat, drew from the county treasury $16,886,75 for the time he was in office, viz.: two years.

It was never my practice to run up bills against the county, and a close examination of the county record will bear me out in this. While the Constable was paid fees the Sheriff was not obliged to serve papers, of a criminal character beyond courts of record; hence nearly three-fourths of the criminal work fell on the Constable.

The assertion that the law was changed to cut my fees off is not borne out by facts. It was two years after I went out of office, and after the receipts of my Democratic successor had swelled to $16, 886, 75, when the law changing the fee bill was adopted by the Lexislature.

the law changing the fee bill was adopted successor had swelled to $16,880.75, when the law changing the fee bill was adopted by the Legislature.

At the time I was Constable I had but three deputies, two of whom I paid salaries. My Democratic successor had in the neighborhood of twenty-five deputies working on percentage.

As for the disappearance of certain papers concerning my bills while Constable: I have never been the custodian of the same, but I dare say, through the system of receipting for money, that being independent of the original claims as filed, a full and complete history of every dollar I have ever drawn from the county, has been traced. No doubt the thousands of original claims as filed with the many county clerks, before Mr. Ward's time in the old Courthouse, have, in keeping them from year to year, been mixed, and there is hardly a possible doubt but what, when all of the papers have been examined and placed in shape, every bill of mine will be found. It would not benefit me to remove them, and surely it would benefit no one else to do it, unless it might be an enemy for political purposes.

Respectfully, JOHN C. CLINE.

Tribute of Attorneys and a Judge. Los Angelles, Nov.-c.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] As an attorney of some years' practice in your city I have had more or less to do with the criminal courts of the county.

While the Hon, W. A. Cheney was on the bench in the criminal department of the Superior Court I had charge of important cases before him. In some instances I appeared for the prosecution, and in other instances I appeared on the side of the defense. While so practicing I came in contact with as bright a young man as I have ever had the pleasure of meeting. He was exemplary in his conduct to all: faithful in the discharge of his duties; considerate beyond the general custom toward the prisoner at the bar, and accommodating and painstaking with jurors in the box and out of the box.

When the time came for this young man when the time came for this young man to sever his connection with the court, owing to the defeat of his principal at the election two years ago, it was the proud pleasure of a large number of citizens who had served as jurors in Judge Cheney's court to present this young man with a suitable emblem of their high esteem for him.

I had the pleasure of being in the convention hall a few weeks ago, when Judge Cheney placed this young man in nomination for Sheriff. The Judge's speech was a high tribute to his young friend and former bailiff, and it cannot be charged that a man and lawyer who stands so pretminently well before the people of this county as does Judge Cheney would ask for the nomination and election of a man who was unworthy and incapable.

matton and election of a man who was un-worthy and incapable.

John C. Cline not only has Judge Cheney's indorsement for Sheriff, but he has the al-most united bar of the county. The busi-ness man, the farmer, the mechanic and the laborer should vote for him.

this city, and at San Pedro. The speeches were short and to the point, and served as a final clincher on the already settled fact that the Re-on the already settled fact that the Republican party have all the argument and facts on their side in this campaign. San Pedro turned out an unusually large crowd last night to greet James I McLachlan, candidate for reelection as District Attorney. His opponent, Mr. Dillon, would have received cold comfort if he'could have heard the arguments advanced by Mr. McLachlan. Facts are what count, and as Mr. Dillon's arguments (?) are based on fiction it is no wonder that the voters of this county resent the implied imputation that they lack ordinary common sense. Watch the vote from the county, and San Pedro in particular.

LL over this city, all over the county, all over Southern California, you hear about the very large increase in the business we are now having. There is no exaggeration in saying no business in all this county is showing one-Half our present increase. We have added a lot of new hands and still we are taxed to the utmost at times to wait upon trade. There is a reason for this great growth-we cater for the good will of all our employees; they in return cater for the good will of every one who enters our doors. There is no distinction made; everybody is treated as desirable customers to sell; there is no toadying to any class; the blacksmith coming from his forge is as heartily welcomed as the millionaire coming with his pocket lined with gold. In all probability the blacksmith trade is more than double the millionaire's; here is where our great success lies. When a merchant or an employer neglects his employees or feels himself above them he loses the respect of the employee and his most valuable service. We cater not only to our employees, but for the good will of every employee in this city. dially welcome them to visit us; we want to show them through our establishment, and we want their good will if we never sell them a dollar's worth of goods. Here is where you see the crowds, upstairs and down it is the same; all over the house the trade is increasing, and it should. Better stocks, better help, better ways; we sell all goods at a good, fair profit; we do not solicit trade upon any other basis; we don't want it upon any other basis. we are not watching to find out what competitive merchants have on sale and then cut their prices; this is contemptible business and we do not indulge in it; we aim to do business upon a fair, square basis; we never cut a price to beat some one else out of a sale. Our goods are all marked in plain figures and that is the only price that will buy them; you are safe in buying goods in this way, and it is the only way you are safe, and since we adopted this plan the trade of this house has almost doubled.

Political Excitement at Concert Pitch on the Eve of Election.

Short Session of City Council-Items rrow's "Times" Will Contain Full Election Returns.

Well: Well: Well:!! How politics were discussed on the street vesterday. The old-time enthusiasm of former campaigns finally burst forth, and tive quiet was simply astonishing.

Republicans, Democrats, Populists and Prohibitionists were all out on the curbstones arguing and shaking their fists, one at the other, in the heat of political controversy, all of which looked very funny to the person who was standing outside and

ANOTHER OF THOSE FAKE INTERVIEWS.

C. C. Thompson is another Pasadenian who was imposed upon by the Herald reporter a few days in his fake interviews reflecting upon the integrity of Col. Banbury. Mr. Thompson's initials were not correctly printed, so that his identity need not necessarily have been disclosed, but he feels aggrieved just the same.

Mr. Thompson told The Times reporter yesterday that he had been quoted only in part and that the Herald reporter only wrote up a a little of what he said. Mr. Thompson, who, by the way, is an out-and-out Prohibitionist, told his interviewer that he thought Col. Banbury had violated the law in no respect, and that he had implicit confidence in the gentleman's integrity and honesty, none of which appeared in the report of the alleged interview.

He took with him a sult of clothes belonging to Mr. Hernster, but dropped them when his pursuers got too near for his personal safety. He succeeded in getting away. This adds another to the rapidly increasing list of burglaries which have occurred of late, and the officers have no clew.

Every comfortable post, drygoods box and street corner in the business part of town was occupied yesterday by voters, who were discussing, with more or less enthusiasm and hilarity, the political outlook. The Republicans claim the full county ticket, although the Democrats assert that their nominees for the offices of District Attorney and County Recorder are sure of election. There seems to be a general falling off among the ranks of the Populists, and those who claim to know say that the vote of the People's party will not exceed 500 in number. Reports of the County Treasurer, Auditor and joint report of the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Auditor and District Attorney was read and filed. After the allowance of the usual monthly demands the board adjourned to Monday, November 14, at 8 o'clock a.m.

J. F. Robinson, the hose thief, who was tried yesterday for jail-breaking in this city on the night of July 8, 1892, was found guilty as charged in the complaint by a jury of twelve citizens, and the time to receive his sentence was set for Monday morning next at 9:30 o'clock. The jury was out but eight minutes before their verdict of guilty as charged, was ready to be GUILTY AS CHARGED.

was out out eight minutes before their verifict of guilty as charged, was ready to be handed in.

Robinson has served time in the Fort Madison (Iowa,) penitentiary for horse-stealing, and has figured in a number of criminal episodes in this State since he has beed a resident of the Pacific Coast. His wife and adopted daughter, the illegitmate child of a triend of Mrs. Robinson, live near Compton, while Robinson's mistress. Mrs. Eschelbach, the woman with whom he has made his home for the past several years, lives in Los Angeles, where Robinson was arrested several weeks ago. From his own lips he is old in criminal experience, and it is fertunate for the people here that he has at last been trapped and put in a fair way to be safely kept in the penitentiary for a couple of years at least.

Silkwood in double harness for the purpose of lowering the world's double team record Mr. Willits is considering the matter of taking Silkwood to Stockton next week to give him a record yeer a kite-shaped track. Silkwood will not be put in good racing condition, in all probability, next season and as so many of Mr. Willits's friends are insisting upon him giving the horse a chance to show what he can do before he is retired from the track, arrangements will probably be made in a few days to ship the king of California stallions north for a mile against time on the Stockton track.

A VITAL ISSUE.

The paragraph in yesterday's Orange county' column of THE TIMES referring to the reported disappointment of the beets ugar committee from Anaheim, who went to San Francisco a week or more ago, to interest capital in the erection of a factory at that place, caused considerable talk in this city yesterday among Democrats, who have been working together with Republicans to establish a beet-sugar factory in or near Santa Ana in the near future. The Anaheim Journal has this to say of the situation in Anaheim as to the sugar-beet matter:

"In conversation with several large landowners who are desirous of investing in our sugar factory, a Journal reporter

"In conversation with several large land-owners who are desirous of investing in our sugar factory, a Journal reporter leraned that they were awaiting the results of the election next Tuesday before invest-ing, fearing that Democratic success meant the repeal of the sugar-bounty law, which would materially lessen the profits of the enterprise. As one Holman, a Democratic Congressian, at the last session of Congressian, at the last session of Congressian, at the last session of Congressian. would materially lessen the product of the enterprise. As one Holman, a Democratic Congressman. at the last session of Congress, attempted to do this very thing, it is very probable that such might be the case. Vice-president Jones of the sugar-factory company expressed himself as believing Democratic success meant death to the industry, and a number of others equally as well posted, expressed themselves as of the same opinion. In view of these facts it might be well for our citizens to consider the question well before easting their votes next Tuesday. Every citizen of this community, whether he be a Democrat. Republican, Prohibitionist or People's party man, would regret having the law repealed, and should give party lines the go by on this momentous question."

THE HILL-BRINKLEY SCANDAL

Young Hill to Come Up Again Tomorrow

The Brinkley-Hill case will come up before Justice Owens tomorrow morn-ing on the $300 embezzlement charge. Hill is still in jail, as he has not been able to give bail. He has made several attempts to get an interview with Mrs. morning as a witness for the prosecution, and if she testifies to the story she has told since she returned from San Francisco with her husband, it will go hard with Hill.

go hard with Hill.

She not only declares that Hill stole $150 from her trunk in San Francisco, but she says he pawned a number of articles belonging to herself and husband, and used the money for himself and did not spend it for the family, as he has stated.

The compremision

"Whats good for the Goose Is good for the Gander."

Outside parties never know the amount of work and detail it requires to run a Department store. The work of planning, mapping and sketching out a line of policy and action often takes six months and sometimes a year before we announce it to our patrons. Our Dolls were bought through a European broker over a year ago, and are just now coming to us in their original European cases, made curious by their peculiar construction, being firmly iron bound and spiked as though they were intended to travel 'round the world.

Toys will be a great feature for the holidays. The handling of toys is an original conception of this house. How long competitors will allow us to remain in peaceful possession of cur originality will be a matter of conjecture. There are always those that never have the courage to make a move themselves until they see us in successful operation, and then they scratch their heads and soliloquize "What's good for the good is good for the gander."
